[ID_12] NPCs seated at bus stops die instantly when the bus stop structure is hit with melee or weapons

Description

When interacting with bus stop structures using melee attacks or firearms, NPCs seated on or near the bus stop instantly die upon impact to the structure itself.
The damage appears to propagate incorrectly from the environment object (bus stop) to the NPCs, causing immediate death regardless of weapon type or damage intensity. This behavior is unrealistic and inconsistent with standard NPC damage mechanics..

2. Stand near or in front of the bus stop

4. Observe the NPCs seated at the bus stop

Expected Result:
NPCs should only take damage if directly hit
Environmental objects (bus stops) should not transfer lethal damage to NPCs
NPCs may react (flee, panic) but not die instantly unless directly attacked

Actual Result:
NPCs seated at the bus stop die instantly when the structure is hit
Death occurs regardless of weapon type or hit location
No visible direct damage to NPCs prior to death
